ROANOKE, VA, May 25, 2009 — Many local citizens and churches in the New River Valley area will be hosting a “Hope For America Rally” on Thursday, June 25th in the Penn Forest Worship Center auditorium in Roanoke. The New River Valley “Hope For America Rally” will focus on the historical relevance of Christian influences in our nation’s founding, the danger of current attacks on our religious and constitutional liberties, and the importance of Christians being a voice and getting plugged into the culture war in America.

The event is open the general public and admission is free. Christians from all denominational backgrounds are encouraged to attend this rally.

The keynote speakers for the rally will be previous news director for Fox News Radio and popular speaker and media personality, Aaron Evans, founder of Liberty Counsel and Dean of Liberty University’s School of Law, Dr. Mat Staver, and founder of Vision America and nationally respected speaker, Dr. Rick Scarborough.

“Hope For America Rallies” are an outreach of Let Freedom Ring Ministries, Inc. of Atlanta, GA and are held across the country to educate and motivate citizens in regard to our constitutional and religious liberties. These rallies are non-profit, non-partisan, and do not promote any political parties or candidates.
